

Welcome to Asian Transplantation Week 2024

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, it is our great honor and pleasure to invite you to Asian Transplantation Week 2024 (ATW 2024) to be held from November 14 (Thu) to 16 (Sat), 2024 at the Conrad Hotel, Seoul, Korea.

Since its expansion into an international congress in 2016, ATW has continually grown, breaking its own record every year in the number of participants. Today, ATW has firmly established itself as the premier transplantation-related academic congress representing the Asian-Pacific region.

Under the theme “Challenges and Opportunities in Asian Transplantation,” the ATW 2024 Organizing Committee is designing an exhilarating scientific program featuring high-quality sessions that will delve into the latest breakthroughs and hot topics across diverse transplantation fields. This year’s edition will provide a platform for distinguished speakers and participants to share their insights while encouraging active engagement and communication within the transplantation community.

It is the wish of the Korean Society for Transplantation (KST), the organizing society of ATW, to have the opportunity to share its expertise and explore the latest knowledge and challenges with our colleagues from around the world through ATW 2024. We are committed to dedicating all our efforts to hosting a congress that is not only meaningful but also enjoyable for all the participants.

Please mark your calendar and join us this November. We eagerly anticipate meeting you at ATW 2024!

Sincerely,
